

~~ HOODOO TIPS: LEMON DRESSED CANDLES ~~

This trick was taught to me by Samantha L. of North Dakota and it has become one of my favorite tricks of all time because it's so simple and works so well.

If you need to sour someone extra fast, dress your candle in lemon oil with lemon juice.

Blend up a whole lemon, fruit, rind, seeds, and all. Strain out the liquid. Pray any good cursing prayer over it and then use on your candle exactly like you would any normal anointing oil. Allow the candle dry for a few hour before burning.

You can use just juice instead of a whole lemon. But do NOT use additional oils.

I have found that dressing a candle this way adds speed to souring and also causes genuine dislike between people. Something about the pure lemon just goes "straight for the throat" so to speak. It isn't long lasting but you can back the lemon up with some hot peppers, grave dirt, or pins around the base of the candle!

You can also load on black obsidian stone into the base of the candle to make the break up/ souring last while the lemon makes it move quickly!
